DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

- I. Claims 1-7, 15 and 16, drawn to a pharmaceutical composition for stimulating nitric oxide.
- II. Claim 8, drawn to a method for the treatment of inflammation in a mammal.
- III. Claim 9, drawn to a method for the treatment of bacterial infection.
- IV. Claim 10, drawn to a method for the treatment of viral infection.
- V. Claim 11, drawn to a method for the treatment of viral infection.
- VI. Claims 12-14, drawn to a process for the preparation of a low molecular weight aqueous extract.

An international and a national stage application shall relate to one invention only or to a group of inventions so linked as to form a single general inventive concept ("requirement of unity of invention"). Where a group of inventions is claimed in an application, the requirement of unity of invention shall be fulfilled only when there is a technical relationship among those inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features. The expression "special technical features" shall mean those technical features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art. An international or a national stage application containing claims to different categories of invention will be considered to have unity of invention if the claims are drawn only to one of the following combinations of categories: (1) a product and a process specially adapted for the manufacture of said product; or (2) a product and a process of use of said product; or

Art Unit: 1655

(3) a product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and a use of the said product; or (4) a process and an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out the said process; or (5) a product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out the said process.

If multiple products, processes of manufacture or uses are claimed, the first invention of the category first mentioned in the claims of the application and the first recited invention of each of the other categories related thereto will be considered as the main invention in the claims, see PCT Article 17(3)(a) and 1.476(c).

The special technical feature is a composition comprising a water-soluble extract of a plant of Centella asiatica. Kim et al. teach a composition comprising a water-soluble extract of a plant of Centella asiatica (US 6417349 see, e.g., see entire patent including title and claims). The special technical feature is well known in the art and lacks novelty.

Thus, the groups lack unity of invention.

In addition, this application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species of a plant from the Markush group of those recited in claims 1, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 15 are as follows:

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single plant species from the recited Markush group of (i.e. elect a particular plant from among those recited) which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The following claim(s) are generic: claims 1, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 15

The species listed above relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Each of the recited claimed plant species are distinct plant species because the claimed plant species are of a different structure which requires a different search for each structure. Thus the claimed plant species do not share a special technical feature with each other and also the claimed species do not share a special technical feature with each other.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be completed must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirements be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
